

Theresa Kyle

Every elk track we followed yesterday had wolf tracks following them. How are humans to compete with something that hunts 24/7/365? We used to see elk everywhere every day. We might see one but it is being eaten by a wolf now adays. This will be my last year hunting this state. Indians killing big bulls whenever they want and now wolves have spread like rats killing everday. Not sure where ya all went to school but they most certainly did not teach common sense. Another scam by the Democrats to destroy the eco system.
