

Deirdre Cochran

Yes, wolves can be a problem when they BECOME a problem. Wolf packs are complex and each member has a purpose. When packs are split up by a death of a member, especially alpha pair, younger wolves may have not been taught all they need to know to BE A WOLF. So, lets go in a circle. Please see non-lethal techniques by DEFENDERS OF WILDLIFE "LIVESTOCK AND WOLVES". Otherwise, leave the wolves alone.