

Keith Peter

I believe the state should follow something similar to other successful states. I like to think that Montana and Idaho have set the ground work that Wa state should follow.