

Mitch Johnson

I believe once the recovery number is met, that the state should the issue enough harvest tags to keep the population at that level. Assure enough tags issued to reduce the population up to as high as 28%. The percent should be reviewed on a yearly or bi yearly schedule. Raise or lower as required to meet tag quotas. We cannot let the wolf population get ahead of us. Look what it did to the elk and deer herds around Yellowstone. Thanks.