Information and education

Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

Not yet, but I hope we can consider the negative impact wolves are having on ungulates, including moose. When we started releasing wolves back into the wild (I worked at Wolf Haven in early 1990's) we did not foresee the impact too many wolves would have on vulnerable populations. Breeding in the wild has been much more successful than we anticipated...too many wolves decimating our deer, elk and moose. We had no idea this would occur.
