Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

As an avid outdoorsman and conservationist, I grew up in Northern Idaho and have witnessed the enormous impact wolves can have on the ecosystem uncontrolled. The once thriving elk population in Northern Idaho has declined drastically, due to loss of habitat and increase in the predator population markedly the wolf. Please consider managing and hunting the wolf population to protect Washington's resources, and prevent another scenario that had transpired in Northern Idaho as I have witnessed first hand.
