Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

Wolves should be taken off the State Endangered Species List and be hunted, like any other game animal, to control populations.

This should be done instead of the state paying millions of dollars to control their populations. Hunters will actually PAY the state to hunt them, instead of the state losing millions of dollars to control the population.

Wolf populations and their huge impact on ungulate populations should be CAREFULLY monitored and strictly controlled to minimize the impact to wild ungulate populations.
