Allowing the public to decide on how many wolves should be in the state

Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

With harvest statistics of ungulates already very low across the state, what is WDFW going to do to INCREASE hunter opportunity? I have zero interest in my hard earned money going towards a nuisance animal that kills for fun. Don't make the mistake that Idaho made and let the wolf population get so out of hand
