Non lethal cattle management

Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

Yes, you need to put wildlife, including wolves, above cattle and ranchers needs when considering wild and public land use. Those lands were put aside to conserve our wildlife, NOT to provide free and cheap grazing land for cattle. Ranchers need to use non-lethal means to protect their cows, as well. The public lands are there for everyone, not ranchers, and provide valuable money to the economy of the towns that surround those areas from people who enjoy the outdoors and go there to view wildlife.
