Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

I consider myself avid outdoorsman and spend much time primarily around Cle Elum, Wa. I have been hunting there for over 20 years and spend much time throughout the year exploring the outdoors. It has been my observation that the mule deer have been declining and especially more so over these last few years. I have seen wolves in the woods as well as in the ranchers fields. Also every year more and more people comment on the increased activity of the wolf population. The state needs to start issuing wolf tags like most other western U.S. states before this population gets more out of control or need to find a better way to manage this ever increasing wolf population.
