WDFW has identified a list of impact topics to include in the Plan/EIS. Impact topics are a means of organizing the discussion of issues and analysis of impacts. Impact topics can be thought of as chapter or section headings in the Plan/EIS.

Please review this list and add other topics, or items that fit under these headings.

Please check the topics you view as most important.

Wolf conservation and monitoring

Wolf classification/status

Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

Livestock owners need to take responsibility for their own animal's protection without reducing the wolf populations.

Every business shows losses either through expiration dates, shoplifting, etc and absorbs the loss.

Wolves keep the deer populations healthy by preying on the elderly and sick while humans kill the prime animals. The wolf has even changed back the landscape in areas of Yellowstone from their hunting behavior.
