WDFW has identified a list of impact topics to include in the Plan/EIS. Impact topics are a means of organizing the discussion of issues and analysis of impacts. Impact topics can be thought of as chapter or section headings in the Plan/EIS.

Please review this list and add other topics, or items that fit under these headings.

Please check the topics you view as most important.

Wolf-ungulate interactions

Wolf interactions with other species

Wolf-human interactions

Wolf hunting

Costs and funding priorities

Please list other topics here. The next page provides space for general comments on the scope of the plan.

deer and elk special permits available now compared to before wolf reintroduction..this needs evaluated most of all

Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

they are breeding like bunny rabbits and you do NOT have an accurate count.

what about the diseases they carry and spread ..you do not address this anywhere..

take note of your own deer and elk permit quotas available now that the deer and elk herds have been destroyed by the wolf packs..hunters and wildlife watchers are the looser under your failed policies and plan..

look to Yellowstone for the results you will have as early as next year..no time to loose ..open up the year round hunting of this deadly monster you have imported and unleashed on the human population..
