

Kris Kennedy

What is your gender?

Male

Age?

67

County (or Counties) of Primary Residence?

Clark

Residential setting:

Rural

Do you identify yourself as any of the following?

Environmentalist

Outdoor Recreationist

WDFW has identified a list of impact topics to include in the Plan/EIS. Impact topics are a means of organizing the discussion of issues and analysis of impacts. Impact topics can be thought of as chapter or section headings in the Plan/EIS.

Please review this list and add other topics, or items that fit under these headings.

Please check the topics you view as most important.

Wolf conservation and monitoring

Wolf classification/status

Land management

Habitat connectivity

Information and education

Research

Reporting and evaluation

Goals objectives strategies and tasks

Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

STOP killing wolves and other predators. Get all livestock off of public land and keep them off. Put non-hunters/non-trappers/non-fishermen on whatever 'commissions' there are. Get the kill everything in sight mentality out of the WDFW. STOP catering to livestock owners, hunters, trappers, fishermen, and especially STOP catering to the McIrvins!!!

Listen to the public, the majority of which want wolves in Washington and don't want them killed just because they kill a cow or sheep or 'might' kill a cow or sheep. Wolves and other predators belong here, livestock doesn't. If people want to own livestock they should buy their own land and stay the hell off of public land. If they can't take care of their livestock on their own land they should get out of the livestock business. People are sick and tired of subsidizing and catering to welfare ranchers who destroy and profit from public land!