Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

Stop using the term "conservation" when referring to wolf and habitat. This is not managing a herd of cattle or balancing the desire that some have to kill any kind of predator with the need to help long persecuted animals rebuild their numbers. Wild creatures need more protected habitat, fewer transgressions by oil, gas, mining, logging, and "land developers." You will never balance population of wolves with humans, because human population growth has been out control for nearly a century!
