Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

WDFW is known to side with business while giving lip service to actually preserving our environment and wildlife. Ranchers seem to think they're entitled to never lose a calf or lamb, and to exterminate any creature that might threaten their profits, when they are in fact compensated for any predation losses. Hunters think their affluence entitles them to blow wildlife to smithereens for "fun." Salmon and geoduck farmers treat Puget Sound -- my backyard -- like a sewer. And you've been letting them. How about you do the right thing for a change? Do not allow our wolves to be harrassed, much less hunted!
