Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

Considering the information I have heard from ranchers, farmers, hunters, and general public of the rural communities statewide. I believe we need to enact a management plan soon. I know our biologists and game department has worked hard to see this be a successful return of the gray wolf to our state. We need to be ready to open a season to manage certain areas of the state. I think a permit season would be a great idea. It would maximize income for our game department. Along with regulate the amount of animals taken to ensure the efforts to bring these animals isnt damaged.
