WDFW has identified a list of impact topics to include in the Plan/EIS. Impact topics are a means of organizing the discussion of issues and analysis of impacts. Impact topics can be thought of as chapter or section headings in the Plan/EIS.

Please review this list and add other topics, or items that fit under these headings.

Please check the topics you view as most important.

Wolf-human interactions

Land management

Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

I strongly oppose wolves in Washington State. Wolves are a danger to humans. Recreation, landowners, and food producers are in grave danger. Wolves greatly impact human activity outdoors. The citizens of this State expect to safely recreate outdoors with their family. We expect to be safe in our yards from a deadly wildlife attack. Washingtonians expect local foods to be produced without the danger of a wolf attack.
