Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

Any plan should be the simplest possible approach. Wolves have shown repeatedly their ability to manage their survival. Any plan should minimize human and wolf interactions on any level. Livestock owners should be to accept responsibility for minimal losses. Stop pandering to them and to hunting lobbies and groups. Restrict ungulate hunting in areas where wolves are managed. To the greatest extent possible stop attempting to manage any aspect of wildlife. Governments should establish reasonable laws protecting wolves and then LEAVE THEM ALONE.
