WDFW has identified a list of impact topics to include in the Plan/EIS. Impact topics are a means of organizing the discussion of issues and analysis of impacts. Impact topics can be thought of as chapter or section headings in the Plan/EIS.

Please review this list and add other topics, or items that fit under these headings.

Please check the topics you view as most important.

Wolf-ungulate interactions

Do you have general comments about the scope of Washington's updated wolf conservation and management plan?

i spend a lot of time in columbia co.the elk and deer herds in the last 3 years have gone down hill since the wolves have established several different groups.they have now moved down out of the mountains into the foothills and farm fields killing whatever they can eat.this last weekend was opening weekend for general buck season.the hunters in unit 154 were asking what happened to all the deer.our group has been hunting the same for 35 years,so you notice when you only see half the numbers as usual.i found a fawn that had been killed and eaten by a wolf.we have to get control of this before its too late
