

melissa reimers

Adding more financial burden to Alaska's farmers through more regulation and disease testing is silly and detrimental. Not only is movi not a death sentence it also must be combined with other pathogens and stress to really harm the wild sheep population. PLEASE listen to the veterinarians on this subject, NOT the deep pockets of the fanatical wild sheep organization. We do not want to limit the growth of animal agriculture now! Not after all we have seen with empty shelves during this pandemic. thank you for listening.