

coke wallace

All livestock entering Alaska should be rigorously tested & screened for any infectious diseases & pathogens that may be harmful to the wildlife of Alaska. The loss of one Dall Sheep, Mountain Goat or Muskox to Movi or any other pathogen is unacceptable & definitively upside down monetarily to the State of Alaska compared to the small caprinae/ovis industry in our State. The revision will be best for the State & it's wildlife.