

Larry Stearns

Not in favor of this type of plant being located in a residential area with family's living close by. A high school that's probably 1/2 mile away or so as the crow fly's. I worked at the incinerator out at Swanson river many years ago and know that these plants produce gases, smells, noise among other issues and with storage of materials.