

Joshua Knicely

Please do not change the laws. The changes being considered will reduce our standards and Alaskans will pay for it with another Exxon Valdez spill. We need to maintain high standards that prevent oil spills and other ecological disasters from occurring in the first place.