Manh Choh mine project in it's current form includes unacceptable intrusion of ore hauling trucking over interior road ways causing excessive amounts of additional air pollution, excessive amounts of roadway wear and tear, excessive amounts of additional traffic into Fairbanks driving on interior roads often icy and snowy through heavily trafficked areas with trucks driven by operators unused to these road conditions as well as through two lane roads heavy with school bus stops and tourist drivers. Manh Choh needs to build their own mine on the premise of the mine site instead of inflicting all these problems on Interior Alaska and Alaskans.
