

Lisa Woolard

paragraph 1.3.2.4 indicates "a significant contribution from a non-domestic source(s)" is defined in Appendix C. Appendix C does not include a definition for "non-domestic source(s)" or for "significant contribution"

It would clarify and be helpful for ADEC to indicate the most common waste streams ADEC has historically identified as "non-domestic source(s)": backwash water (may include strainer and filter backwash, etc), reject water (may include concentrate, flush, neutralized CIP, etc), others?

The permit definitions reference 18AAC72 definitions, but 18AAC72.990 (41) definition of "nondomestic wastewater" does not clearly include water treatment waste waters. 18AAC83 uses the word "nondomestic" but does not define it.

The NOI form for AKG380000 in Section 7 indicates ion exchange systems produce a non-domestic wastewater during the regeneration process.

AKG380000 Appendix C includes filter backwash in the definition of Pollutant. That definition also includes sewage - suggesting filter backwash be categorized like sewage as a domestic wastewater?