

Dick Evans

We have been organic composting here in our home for the past twenty years. We have a compost bin and we use the compost for our garden and plants. The past several years we've been doing the compost bucket program and has been working. Have been waiting for the program of county composting to start for homeowners. And for curbside pickup of organic matter which would save homeowners money instead of making trips to compost sights. Thank You