

Kevin Hinrichs

Not really interested in how you do it, as long as it protects the Wild Rice and the margin of safety is sufficient to do so and if the mines need to spend more money to get into real compliance so be it. The standard has been around since the 1940's and it does not sound like there is any dispute about it just the enforcement of it.