

Christopher Loch

Mines and other pollution sources cannot be allowed to put sulfate into wild rice bearing waters or into ANY waters. No exceptions should ever be granted. Exceptions make a mockery of regulations and protections and are bad in the short and long run.