

Johnny Barber

I do not believe a site specific plan will increase protections for our fresh water lakes rivers and streams. By changing to a site specific plan we will effectively limit accountability to those who pollute our waterways. We need regulations that will protect all our waters from the multinational corps that do not care what they poison.