

Terrie Christian

I support saving wild rice. I grew up on the Leech Lake reservation. I am not native. I took Indian Studies at the U of M from Ron Libertus. The history of government policies have harmed indigenous people from the federal government and the state. Wild Rice is an important part of their life and culture. It should be protected for generations to come. It is not just good for the tribal people, but all of us!