

Dodd Cosgrove

Clean water is the state's most valuable resource. It is clean water that creates the environment for the state's renowned wild rice. Copper mining and wild rice do not mix. Changing the sulfate standards is a bad idea. The state needs strict sulfate rules to protect our wild rice and the quality of our water.