

Gestalt Engineering, LLC

Current MPCA rules are prescriptive in the design of final cover systems for demolition landfills. The checklist for the PCC summary report suggests the need to model the hydraulic performance of the final cover design using the HELP model. This requirement was not needed at the time of final cover design and permitting. Why is it needed at the time the PCC summary report is prepared? How will MPCA use the HELP model output to determine the suitability of site for terminating PCC care?