

Luann Carroll

You have grown up and now hold a position of power over a powerful, though fragile resource called water. The waters of Minnesota Need Protection. Please be the waters ally, and not the waters enemy. You are alive now because of water. Please consider this basic thought in your decisions over the health and well being of our shared water. Thank you.