

Ian Erickson

Add Dark Lake to the impaired waters list! Clean water and sustainable ecosystems are critical to the future viability of human habitation in Minnesota, and the interests of the companies and politicians that have impaired our waters, pale in comparison to this.