

Javelle Patterson

How does something like this happen? Minnesota, the land of 10,000 lakes, all of which are now "impaired." How does this happen? What does it take for local government officials to stop fighting over politics and preserve the one thing this state is known for?