

Ellen Rozek

I am heartened by the state's decision to include PFOS on its list of impairments and hopeful that steps will be taken to improve the water quality in all three bodies of water which were newly added to this list because of high PFOS levels. That said, I also encourage the state to monitor PFAS levels in our water supply, if it doesn't already, and to add bodies of water where PFAS levels are high to the impaired water list as well.