

Kathy Steinhauer

Minnesota water and waterways have been the defining factor in how Minnesota defines itself. We are proud as well as dependent on our once prestin waters. As a State we must continue in all avenues to maintain health of our waters.