

Mary Ann Vande Vusse

MPCA must move quickly to set sulfate load limits for wild rice waters polluted by mining to restore compliance and establish, update, and enforce sulfate limits in every mining permit to achieve compliance. These steps—none of which MPCA has adopted—would restore approximately half of Minnesota's wild rice waters impaired due to sulfate.