

Ryan Bonow

I oppose the changes to the feedlot permits. The changes place another financial burden on family farms. The cost of building manure storage facilities has grown exponentially while the value of the products farms produce has remained flat.