

Melissa Schoenke

This water quality permit is an important action to protect the waterways that humans, wildlife and businesses rely on. This should provoke innovation at 3M and other companies to find ways to manufacture with better knowledge of their impact and more accountability to the world they do business in.