

Carla Albers

No one or corporation is above the law. Those who break the law need to have both consequences, stricter regulations and stricter monitoring. Apparently such people and corporations can't monitor their own actions!