

Jennifer Cummings

NO! Right the ship and catch up with the times by making the operations SUSTAINABLE. If 3M is going to continue unsustainable practices then let them fail, or they can figure out how to be sustainable and compete within the rules. We shall be ruined by allowing our protections to be altered for every wealthy company that bullies us to allow exceptions for their substandard operations. Do Better 3M. Do Better MPCA.