

Gladys Mejia

I think there should be a reverse osmosis process done to clean the water. 3M should stop the use of PFAS all together and find ways to eliminate and destroy them all together. The limits need to be lower and aligned with European standards.