Dear Matthew:

Please find attached comments on your draft “Authorization to Discharge Stormwater Associated With Industrial Activity under the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES)/State Disposal System (SDS) Program—MNR050000”.

As referenced in our comments, I’ve also attached our Industry comments that we are supporting for this permitting cycle.

When I checked this morning the webpage for submitting comments on the Draft 2025 ISW General Permit (MNR050000), the webpage clearly indicated that comments are due February 26, 2025, 11:59 pm CT (see similar examples in image below). An article by Fredrikson Law independently confirms what I saw earlier today. I have attached an image of verification of this statement.

Since many of us are traveling this week and have been working to meet the 11:59pm deadline this evening and also to be collaborative and concise with our comments, I was very surprised to find the comment portal closed EARLIER than 11:59 pm CT. I wonder how many of the times in the image below are incorrect. We have been passing this information along to other permittee’s as they too were working with the same 11:59pm CT deadline in mind.

If your own comment portal says that the deadline is 11:59 pm CT, you should honor that, I and others trust that you will.

Thank you very much for accepting CW Companies comments and your consideration.

Regards,

Crystal
