

Sally Downing

Many of us, probably including my English, Irish and French ancestors have stolen from the Indigenous population of our continent. We have never properly "paid" for the consequences of our ancestors and our actions. Now a huge corporation wants to get permission to pollute our waterways for their enrichment. It especially affects Native peoples ability to have successful wild rice harvests. As the chief pollution agency in our state, I beg you to think about the above and future generations in Minnesota. Thank you for your consideration.