

Donna Wilcox

More researching and facts on sulfate standards to see if they even affect wild rice needs to be determined before shutting down mines because of the non-cost-effective expenses of the sulfate standards