

David Toole

Please use scientific data when making this decision. The standard that is being proposed isn't attainable and will put people out of jobs. Not only on mining but in the cities and towns all over the state. It will cost companies and cities millions of dollars to try and get to this standard. My understanding is that wild rice crops are doing well.