CONSERVATION
MINNESOTA

Minnesota Pollution Control Agency
520 Lafayette Road N
Saint Paul, MN 55155

Pollution Control Agency,

Sulfate pollution threatens Minnesota's waters and the health of our communities. It critically impacts the important places where wild rice grows and is harvested. US Steel Corp, which operates the Keetac taconite mine and processing plant near Keewatin, has been exceeding its sulfate discharge limit for years. We appreciate your preliminary denial of US Steel's variance request for both the mine permit and the tailings basin permit.

At Conservation Minnesota, we work to protect the people and places Minnesotans love from pollution. We have collected 472 signatures from our members across the state who also agree with this denial. As you consider your final decision on this matter, these members would like to ask you to protect wild rice and clean water for all Minnesotans.

Members have signed on with this statement:

"I support strong protections for wild rice waters and the health of Minnesotans. Rigorous water quality standards should be enforced at both Keetac locations."

Thank you for your consideration,

Nels Paulsen
Policy Director
Conservation Minnesota
