

Austin Siekkinen

MPCA should read what levels are suggested by the EPA on drinking water levels than what they're suggesting. MPCA should also consider testing this is a real world application and not a test tube, that's how you determine real science.