

Lane Ayres

We have limits on sulfate for reasons. U.S. Steel wants us to let them put more sulfates into the water system because it would cost them more money to comply with the limit we have set. Simply put, they want us to increase the sulfate limit so that they don't have the expense of removing it and make a higher profit.